DynCorp International is a highly successful provider of critical support to military and civilian government institutions. For more than 60 years, DynCorp International and its predecessor companies have been entrusted with important responsibilities to keep our military personnel safe and ready, help stem the flow of illegal narcotics to the United States, help protect American diplomats and key foreign leaders, train police and military in countries critical to U.S. interests, manage construction and engineering projects in remote locations from Afghanistan to Sudan, support community stability in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina and respond to environmental catastrophes at sea. DynCorp is proud to support the United States government in these important activities and is grateful to play a part in protecting the nation's security.

Founded by WWII veterans, the company seeks those with the experience, skills and dedication military service develops. DynCorp knows the value of military service and recognizes the potential contribution a veteran can offer as an employee.

DynCorp International has 15 prior-military recruiters. They work hard establishing relationships with veterans from all military branches. Targeted advertising, in G.I. Jobs, and other print and online media, reaches those interested in continuing service-oriented careers.

A military liaison recruiting team was established to focus exclusively on military organizations. The company organizes "DynCorp Days" with Army Career and Alumni Program (ACAP) and Transition Assistance Management Program (TAMP) offices. •
